

TAMUG Title IX Campus Coordinators

Each recipient of federal funds must designate at least one employee to evaluate current practices to ensure an institution's compliance with Title IX; coordinate efforts to respond effectively to complaints of sex discrimination, including complaints of sexual harassment and retaliation; and ensure as much as possible that every Texas A&M University at Galveston student and employee has equal educational access and employment opportunities.

Jeff Boyer, Executive Director of Human Resources, has been designated as Title IX Campus Coordinator for Texas A&M University at Galveston. For further information regarding issues associated with Title IX, please contact Mr. Boyer or one of the Deputy Title IX Campus Coordinators indicated below:
