SAFETY PROTOCOL: ARMED SUBJECTS

1. If you witness any armed individual on campus at any time or if an individual is acting in a hostile or belligerent manner, immediately contact the Galveston Police Communication Center at 911, they will dispatch the appropriate response and notify the University Police. University Police direct number is 409-771-5185.

2. If the armed subject is outside the building:

Turn off all the lights and close and lock all windows and doors. Call the police immediately.

If you can do so safely, get all students on the floor and out the line of fire.

Move to a core area of the building and spread out. Remain there until and "all clear" instruction is given by an authorized known voice. No one will be left behind when the incident is over.

If the staff or students do not recognize the voice that is giving instruction, they should not change their status. Call the police and report your status.

They will come to you or verify the "All Clear".

Unknown or unfamiliar voices may be misleading and designed to give false assurances.

3. If the armed subject is inside the building:

If it is possible to flee the area safely and avoid danger, do so.

Call the police as soon as you can. The police will respond to location of the armed individual.

Call 911 or the direct line to the campus police at 409-771-5185.

If flight is impossible, lock all doors and secure yourself in the space.

If there is more than one person in a room, Spread out around the room.

Get students on the floor and out of the line of fire.

Wait for the "all clear" instruction.

4. If the armed subject comes into your class or office

There is no, one procedure the authorities can recommend in the situation.

If the armed subject enters your space, you can assume that he/she could represent a great risk of bodily injury or death to you and the people around you.

Use common sense. If hiding or fleeing is impossible and attempting to negotiate with the individual is not an option, you may have to use force to preserve your life and the lives of others. Attempting to overcome the armed subject with force is a last resort that should only be initiated in the most extreme circumstances. If you heard gunfire prior to seeing the gunman in your area and the gunman is not in a talking mood when he enters your space, you can assume their intention is to shoot people, In a situation where there are ten of you and one of him, you may have an advantage, especially if you surprise the gunman with a coordinated group attack.

Remember, there may be more than one active armed subject so it would be wise to subdue and disarm the gunman as quickly and as quietly as possible and remove him from any open area where

An accomplice can attack you. Use any available cords or belts to secure the gunman until the police arrive. Again, call the police and advise them of you status as soon as possible.

Wait for the "all clear" instruction.

Be careful not to make any changes to the crime scene. It will become part of the investigation. Remember what you saw and heard, it will also be critical to the investigation.

Information regarding registered sex offenders

The "Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act" is a federal law enacted on October 28, 2000 that provides for the tracking of convicted, registered sex offenders enrolled as students at institutions of higher education, or working or volunteering on campus.

This act amends the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 to clarify that nothing in that Act may be construed to prohibit an educational institution from disclosing information provided to the institution concerning registered sex offenders and requires the Secretary of Education to take appropriate steps to notify educational institutions that disclosure of this information is permitted.

The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is the official Texas internet source for Sex Offender Registration information. The Sex Offender Registration record information is extracted from the DPS Sex Offender Registration Database. The DPS maintains files based on registration information submitted by criminal justice agencies and represents a statewide source of information on sex offenders required by law to register. The DPS public web page can be found at <https://records.txdps.state.tx.us/soSearch/default.cfm>
