

TAMUG Office of Residence Life Damage List

The information contained in this document outlines the charges and/or fees associated with the cost of damage, repair, labor and any combination of these factors. When possible, the responsible individual(s) will be charged the cost to return the damaged item to its original condition. When the responsible individual(s) cannot be identified, these charges can be assessed to a room or group of rooms, a wing of a floor, an entire floor, or the entire building, set of buildings or court.

The items in this document reflect the most common items requiring repair and/or service throughout the academic terms. Rates generally hold steady for the entire academic term. However the final costs can vary depending on the severity of the situation, cost of labor involved and cost of materials thus reflecting a higher charge.

Whenever possible, you should report problems to your Community Leader (CL). Your CL does not determine the cost of a damaged item.

Furthermore your CL does not control the time it takes to repair or replace an item. Any questions you have regarding charges should be directed to your Housing Coordinator (HC) or other TAMUG Office of Residence Life professional.

There are times when unfortunate events may occur during the school year. Mechanical failure is not grounds for replacement, reimbursement or compensation to the students. For this reason, The Office of Residence Life strongly encourages students residing on campus to either invest in renter's insurance against loss/theft or verify a parental homeowner's policy provides ample coverage while living on campus.
