THE GEORGE P. MITCHELL SOCIETY

The George P. Mitchell Society (GPMS) is comprised of individuals and organizations committed to the well-being of our oceans by supporting marine and maritime research, education, training and more at the Gulf Coast's maritime university, Texas A&M University at Galveston (TAMUG).

Established in honor of George Phydias Mitchell '40, the spirit of the GPMS is to enhance the growth of the Galveston campus of Texas A&M University.

Funds are designated for scholarships, maritime research, faculty and student recruitment, campus beautification and other purposes as designated by the chief operations officer.

FEATURE

In addition to donating the 140 acres on Pelican Island where the university sits, Mr. Mitchell remains one of the most significant donors to Texas A&M University's two stateside campuses in College Station and Galveston.

Mr. Mitchell is likewise known for founding his own successful exploration company, as well as The Woodlands, a community lying northwest of Houston. A Galveston native, he led the rejuvenation of the island's historic Strand District and helped revive the city's annual Mardi Gras celebration.

He is remembered for his lasting legacy and love for giving back to numerous communities and causes.
