Campus Recreation

Aquatics

- The Marine Engineering Technology Department held an underwater robot lab in the pool.
- Mammoth Dive Academy used the pool for their Master diver test.

Fitness & Wellness

- After a very successful month of weekly classes, our Yoga instructor has committed weekly yoga for the entirety of the Fall semester.

Intramural Sports & Club Sports

- The sailing team is placed highly in their conference thanks to new freshmen athletes.

Peer Educators

- Peer Educators hosted a successful “Painting with Bob Ross” event – roughly 30 students attended the event.
 - Peer Educators hosted Safe Oktoberfest where they provided information about alternatives to alcohol during Oktoberfest and education about the dangers of mixing alcohol and other drugs (fulfilling a JED recommendation).
 - Peer Educators are hosted Safe Sex Bingo 10/29 in the Private Dining Room.

Wellness

- 50 Flu shots were provided to TAMUG students at no cost by Teen Health Center.
 - Teen Health Center psychiatric services came to campus to table and promote their services. We were informed that due to a potential change in funding, THC may now potentially be able to provide mental health and psychiatric services to individuals “under 22 years of age OR college enrolled” which expands our ability to refer students to them.
 - Krissy met with the organization “Warrior Spirit” to start a partnership that would involve offering programs and services geared towards student veterans and cadets.
 - Information about the Galveston College Student Veteran Resource Fair has been forwarded to TAMUG veterans.

CORPS of Cadets

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
GALVESTON CAMPUS®

October 4 – Aggie Saturday by the Sea – Texas A&M University Galveston held its Aggie Saturday by the Sea, fall semester edition, on October 4. Aggie Saturday is an all-access campus open hour that offers the general public the opportunity to explore the marine and maritime fields offered at the Galveston campus. The Corps of Cadets assisted this campus-wide effort, by having cadets volunteer to give their perspective of student life, being a member of the Corps of Cadets and of the Texas A&M Maritime Academy, and their respective degrees, and aided with the movement of attendees throughout campus.

October 11 – Bay-Houston towing is an important partner to the TAMUG students, not just those cadets pursuing license option. This month Bay-Houston had 2 new tractor tugs, the Eden K and Leighton K, join its fleet, on a christening ceremony held at Galveston's Pier 21. By special invitation from the tugs' owners, Cadets Caiden Heausler (Corps Commander), Emilia Sosa, Dylan Johnson and Andrew Boyd volunteered assisting guests board and disembark as they visited these tugs and participated of the rest of events related to this special occasion.

October 15 – SHIPPINGInsight is a series of conferences that address the pressing issues faced by ship and fleet operators in the 21st Century. For the Shipping Insight 2025 series held in Houston, the Drill Team was invited to present the Colors during the event's opening ceremony.

October 15 – TAMUG's Pier Ground Breaking ceremony marked an important milestone in preparation for the arrival of the TS Lone Star State. This new pier, to be located behind the SeaAggie Center, will be a state of the art facility, designed allow safe mooring of the new training ship during a Category 2 hurricane. The Corps of Cadets supported this event with members of the William C. Hearn Honor Guard welcoming presenters, dignitaries and guests, Colors were presented by the Drill Team, and a significant number of other members were also present to not only witness this significant university event, but also demonstrate how this project will benefit those cadets in the license option program.

October 18 – As part of annual Gala, the Port of Galveston continued with its 200th Anniversary celebration. The Corps of Cadets had several key participations on this event. From a Willam C. Hearn Honor Guard team performance to around 14 cadets welcoming dignitaries, special guests, and other attendees. But unknown to most, the Texas A&M University at Galveston's students had a different experience. That is, in collaboration with the Texas A&M Foundation, the Port of Galveston presented a symbolic check of $300,000 to support our students with financial assistance.

Volunteer Fair

Student Activities' Volunteer Fair was a tremendous success! We were proud to welcome over 100 students who came eager to learn about and engage with opportunities to serve in the local community. We are deeply grateful to the 40 community partners who participated in the event!

ACPA

This year, the Galveston Freshman Leadership Organization sent two officers and two members to attend the Association for the Promotion of Campus Activities (APCA) Fall Planning Conference in Dallas, Texas. While there, we were able to watch tons of different performances ranging from comedians, bands, solo musicians, magicians, speakers, and more.

New Student & Family Programs

Over 600 students and their family members attended the annual TAMUG Family Weekend on October 17-18. Family Weekend is designed to be an opportunity for families to return to TAMUG to see their student and to provide opportunities for students to show off campus to their families. Over the course of the weekend, we ran a dozen harbor tours and tours of the Sea Life Facility. We also hosted guest speakers who talked about research and study abroad opportunities, former students who came back to campus to talk about their careers and how their time at TAMUG as a student propelled them into the careers that they are in today. We also hosted a football game tailgate/watch party for the Texas A&M v. Arkansas football game. While the game was postponed for a few hours, attendees still enjoyed performances from the Sea Aggie Band and Two Step.

RHA Fall Fest Photobooth & Costume Contest

Assessment/Outcome: RHA students created an inviting space for students to engage with the surrounding community in a meaningful and positive way. The students volunteered their time to host the event, practice selfless service and contribute to a memorable experience for local families. The event also provided an opportunity for younger children to interact with students through friendly activities.
